WIKAI USA Expands Strategic Partnership with AWC, Strengthening Service Reach

Lawrenceville, GA | October 23, 2023 - WIKAI USA, a leading provider of pressure and temperature measurement products, along with an extensive array of offerings encompassing level, force, flow, and calibration technology, is proud to announce an expanded strategic partnership with AWC, a respected automation and controls technology company headquartered in Baton Rouge, LA. This partnership marks an exciting new phase in their nearly decade-long collaboration, reflecting WIKAI USA's commitment to extending its service reach and enhancing customer satisfaction.

Our comprehensive evaluation has affirmed that AWC's expanded geographic footprint will deliver unparalleled advantages to both of our existing and prospective clientele. It is crucial to note that this collaboration will not lead to any alterations in the manufacturing or design of the WIKAI product portfolio, assuring the steadfast maintenance of product quality and uninterrupted service.

Over our enduring partnership spanning nearly a decade, WIKAI and AWC have consistently demonstrated a shared dedication to customer-centric values and an unwavering commitment to upholding the highest standards of quality. This progressive phase in our collaboration with AWC underscores WIKAI's unwavering commitment to fostering a comprehensive and dynamic partner relationship, reflecting our shared pursuit of excellence.

"Our expanded geographic partnership with AWC marks a significant milestone in our journey, reinforcing the strength of our partner relationship," says WIKAI USA President Todd Gardner. "This strategic expansion not only bolsters our commitment to serving our partners more effectively but also exemplifies the synergy that defines our collaboration with AWC, fostering innovation and excellence."

Our enduring partnership with AWC guarantees a smooth and streamlined transition, assuring our customers of uninterrupted access to the exceptional products and services they've come to rely on. This expanded partnership is a natural evolution of the longstanding, trusted relationship between WIKAI USA and AWC, and our ongoing commitment to excellence.
